General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interest, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

☐ Proposed

☒ Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 2006-068276
Book _____ Page _____

☐ Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

☐ Proposed

☒ Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. 4208

☐ Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

☐ Proposed

☒ Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 2006-068277
Book _____ Page _____

☐ Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

☒ Proposed ☐ Adopted ☐ Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%*	75%
Bylaws	65%	65%
House Rules	 	Majority of Board of Directors

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments.

2. Developer:

☐ No rights have been reserved by the developer to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House rules.

☒ Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules.

Developer has reserved the right to amend the Declaration and Condominium Map in any manner prior to the recording of the first apartment sale. After said recording, the Developer may amend the Declaration and Condominium Map to satisfy the requirements of law, lenders, insurers or others provided that the design, size, location or common interest of any apartment shall not be materially changed without the consent of the owner thereof.

III. THE CONDOMINIUM PROJECT

A. Interest to be Conveyed to Buyer:

☒ Fee Simple: Individual apartments and the common elements, which include the underlying land, will be in fee simple.

☐ Leasehold or Sub-leasehold: Individual apartments and the common elements, which include the underlying land will be leasehold.

Leases for the individual apartments and the underlying land usually require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee (apartment owner/tenant) deliver to the lessor (fee property owner) possession of the leased premises and all improvements, including improvements paid for the lessee.

Exhibit _____ contains further explanations regarding the manner in which the renegotiated lease rents will be calculated and a description of the surrender clause provision(s).

Lease Term Expires: _____ Rent Renegotiation Date(s): _____

Lease Rent Payable: ☐ Monthly ☐ Quarterly
 ☐ Semi-Annually ☐ Annually

Exhibit ____ contains a schedule of the lease rent for each apartment per: ☐ Month ☐ Year

For Sub-leaseholds:

☐ Buyer's sublease may be canceled if the master lease between the sublessor and fee owner is:

☐ Canceled ☐ Foreclosed

☐ As long as the buyer is not in default, the buyer may continue to occupy the apartment and/or land on the same terms contained in the sublease even if the master lease is canceled or foreclosed.

☐ Individual Apartments in Fee Simple: Common Interest in the Underlying Land in Leasehold or Sub-leasehold:

Leases for the underlying land usually require that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver to the lessor (fee property owner) their interest in the land and that they either (1) remove or dispose of the buildings(s) and other improvements at the lessee's expense; or (2) convey the building(s) and improvements to the lessor, often at a specified price.

Exhibit _____ contains further explanations regarding the manner in which the renegotiated lease rents will be calculated and a description of the surrender clause provision(s).

Lease Term Expires: _____ Rent Renegotiation Date(s): _____

Lease Rent Payable: ☐ Monthly ☐ Quarterly
 ☐ Semi-Annually ☐ Annually

Exhibit ____ contains a schedule of the lease rent for each apartment per: ☐ Month ☐ Year

- ☒ Other: Note: The County has not approved the subdivision of the units and their limited common elements into separate subdivided lots. They are being sold as condominium units only.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are the subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula by arbitration set in the lease agreement by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code.

- a. ☒ [X] No variances to zoning code have been granted.
☐ [] Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming Illegal
Uses	all
Structures	all
Lot	yes

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

☒ [X] described in Exhibit A.

☐ [] as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

☐ There are no limited common elements in this project.

☒ The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

☒ described in Exhibit A*.

☐ as follows:

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

☐ described in Exhibit _____.

☒ as follows: Each apartment will have a 1/16 common interest (6.25%) and will pay 1/16 of all common expenses (and an equal vote on all condominium matters).

- E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit B describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated August 11, 2006 and issued by Title Guaranty of Hawaii, Inc.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[X] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
---------------------	--

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

Each apartment buyer shall receive from the general contractor the customary one-year warranty against defects in workmanship and materials in said apartment for a period of one year from the date of substantial completion of the building in which said apartment is located.

2. Appliances:

There are no appliances and therefore no warranties.

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

All apartments and common elements have been completed as of July 27, 2006.

H. Project Phases:

The developer ☐ has ☒ has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

- A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

☐ not affiliated with the Developer ☐ the Developer or the Developer's affiliate
☒ self-managed by the Association of Apartment Owners ☐ Other: _____

- B. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, a lien may be placed on your apartment and the apartment may be sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit C contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change).

- C. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

☐ None ☒ Electricity (☒ Common Elements only _____ Common Elements and Apartments)
☐ Gas (_____ Common Elements only _____ Common Elements & Apartments)
☒ Water ☐ Sewer ☐ Television Cable
☒ Other Refuse collection

V. MISCELLANEOUS

A. Sales Documents Filed With the Real Estate Commission:

The apartments are located in three (3) buildings, designated Building G, Building H and Building J, lettered consecutively from southwest, north and southeast.

Note: The letters G, H and J are used in order to avoid confusion with similar apartments developed in the Emerald Plaza Condominium and the Emerald Plaza Center Condominium nearby, containing six (6) buildings lettered A through F. Note, however, that Emerald Plaza Place is an entirely separate condominium.

Building G contains apartments numbered G-1 through G-5, consecutively from south to north. Building H contains apartments numbered H-1 through H-6, consecutively from west to east. Building J contains apartments numbered J-1 through J-5, consecutively from south to north.

COMMON ELEMENTS AND LIMITED COMMON ELEMENTS:

The common elements include all land, underground drainage structures, above-ground structures and elements of the condominium which are not included within the definition of any apartment (subject to the special uses of and other provisions relating to the limited common elements as defined in the body of the declaration), and within each building include all party and perimeter walls, all structural elements and all utilities serving more than one apartment.

Certain parts of the common elements, referred to as the "limited common elements", are hereby designated and set aside for the exclusive use of certain apartments, and such apartments shall have appurtenant, exclusive easements for the use of such limited common elements. The limited common elements are shown on the condominium map and are described as follows:

(a) Buildings. All structural portions, exterior walls, roof and common utilities within or comprising each building are limited common elements appurtenant only to the apartments contained in said building.

Apartments G-1 through G-5 as a group will have full control of and management responsibility for the limited common elements of Building G, and all common expenses properly and reasonably attributable to said limited common elements shall be allocated to and paid by said Apartments G-1 through G-5, each apartment paying 1/5 of said common expenses.

Apartments H-1 through H-6 as a group will have full control of and management responsibility for the limited common elements of Building H, and all common expenses properly and reasonably attributable to said limited common elements shall be allocated to and paid by said Apartments H-1 through H-6, each apartment paying 1/6 of said common expenses.

Apartments J-1 through J-5 as a group will have full control of and management responsibility for the limited common elements of Building J, and all common expenses properly and reasonably attributable to said limited common elements shall be allocated to and paid by said Apartments J-1 through J-5, each apartment paying 1/5 of said common expenses.

The Association, through the Board of Directors, shall act as the agent of the owners of all of the apartments in each building to manage and supervise the day-to-day maintenance, repair and operation of said building for the benefit of the apartments therein. All costs relating to each building shall be allocated to and paid by only those apartments within said building. If the owners of a majority of apartments in any building shall desire to exercise their right of management and control with respect to the building in which they are located as provided above, they may do so. Similarly, said owners, acting through a majority, shall have the right to direct the management, repair and operational decisions of the Association acting as their agent concerning their building.

(b) Walkways and Railings. Adjacent to each of the Apartments G-1 and J-1 is a walkway with railing, which provides access to the side door of said apartment. Said walkway and railing shall be a limited common element appurtenant to said apartment which it serves, and the maintenance and repair of said walkway and railing shall be the responsibility and cost of the owners of the apartment which said walkway and railing serve.

PARKING:

Not less than two (2) parking spaces shall be allocated to each apartment by Developer in the deed conveying said apartment to its purchaser. The Developer reserves the right (but not the obligation) to assign more than two (2) parking spaces to any apartment(s). The general driveway parking and loading areas are common areas and are subject to the reasonable regulation of the Association, through the Board of Directors. Any designated parking space appurtenant to an apartment may be exchanged with that of another by mutual written agreement between the respective apartment owners filed with the official records of the Association; provided that each apartment shall always have not less than two (2) parking spaces allocated and appurtenant to it.

WATER AND SEWER:

All charges for water and sewer fees shall be allocated among and paid by all apartments based on a fair and equitable method of allocation reasonably determined by the Board of Directors of the Association from time to time, including, but not limited to, submeters to measure water use by individual apartments.
